FREE GARBAGE PLAN IS URGED BY CITY IMPROVEMENT WORKERS

Executive Committee Prepares
Program for General Meeting Next Friday

Action in the nature of a follow-up of the decision of the recent special meeting of the Central Improvement Committee in favor of a free garbage system for Honolulu was taken at a meeting of the executive committee of that organization in the office of the secretary, George G. Guild, yesterday afternoon. A program for the next meeting of the main body, appointed at the same time for next Friday evening, was also planned. It includes consideration of the road frontage tax law and the Honolulu water supply.

With reference to free garbage, it was voted to request the board of supervisors to grant a hearing to a deputation consisting of the executive committee and former Governor Carter, Senator Judd and President Pratt of the board of health, which should urge upon the city fathers the inclusion of "a liberal appropriation" in the next half-yearly budget for the inauguration of free garbage collection either in the city as a whole or at least within certain limits, in accordance with the resolution passed on the former occasion.

Vice-president C. W. Ashford proposed, as one of the leading topics for the general meeting next Friday evening, at the rooms of the Merchants' Association, the frontage tax law. This was adopted after a discussion in which reference was made to the public meeting held by the supervisors on the subject as well as to the active interest in the matter taken by the Ad Club and other organizations.

JUDGE RUNS OUT OF COURT RATHER THAN GET KISSED

But Salutation is Pressed
Home by Female Gipsies
on Crown Prosecutor

[By Latest Mail]
NEW YORK—The kisses of dark ladies from the sunny south are evidently too much for his honor Judge McInnes, and the prospective embraces of two swarthy Brazilians caused the speedy disappearance of his honor from his courtroom yesterday afternoon. As it was, Chief Constable Smith, Crown Prosecutor McKay, Clerk of the Court Sherwood, the stenographer and other officials as could not beat the hurried retreat that the judge had effected, were asked by arms as stout as any constables and pressed and kissed with a warmth and fervor that might have roused green envy and passion had the mistresses of their homes but been present.

The Brazilian dames, boasting the names of Mary and Leticia Stevenson, were grateful for their dismissal on the charges of witchcraft and false pretenses laid against them and their husbands, Frank and Dimitro, and their thankfulness found vent in this way, which completely upset the gravity and decorum of the court. An array of beer, oil and whisky bottles stood along the desk of the court with contents of water not the cleanest, and singed rags. Chief Tom and two other members of the Synamon tribe said they had bought the bottles with their contents from the Brazilians at costs ranging from $10 up to $30. One of the women, they said, had told them she was a doctor and had prophesied all manner of ills for the Indians unless they bought her wares. She then, according to the Indian version, burned dollar bills and rags over the bottles filled with water and gave them this as a sure and certain cure. The big chief had been threatened with death if he did not buy his bottle. The story of the women, however, was that they were peddling linen, handkerchiefs and shawls, while one car-
